

Which 2026 HTH GSE conference should you attend?

1. What best describes your role this year?

I support educators.

(support staff, counselor, coach, etc.)

Go to next slide

I'm a school, system, or org leader.

Go to question 3

I'm a teacher.

Go to question 4

Which 2026 HTH GSE conference should you attend?

2. How do you most often support learning?

By working directly with students.

Go to next slide

By coaching or developing teachers.

Go to question 4

Which 2026 HTH GSE conference should you attend?

3. What are you hoping to explore?

Fresh, creative practices to spark deeper student engagement.

Deeper Learning 2026

Drawing on community wisdom to deepen learning.

Deeper Learning 2026

Implementing continuous improvement methods.

Summit 2026

Tackling persistent challenges like literacy, attendance, or college access.

Summit 2026

Which 2026 HTH GSE conference should you attend?

4. What's your current priority?

Scaling solutions across classrooms and schools.

Summit 2026

Strengthening professional learning for my staff.

Summit 2026

Equipping teachers to deliver more engaging instruction.

Go to next slide

Which 2026 HTH GSE conference should you attend?

5. Do you want tools that deepen student learning or sharpen system improvement?

I want methods that help us get better at getting better.

Summit
2026

Not sure—I want better learning and better systems.

Go to next slide

Which 2026 HTH GSE conference should you attend?

6. Who do you most want to connect with?

Educators seeking sharper methods for tackling persistent problems.

Summit
2026

Educators creating deeper, more engaging learning for students.

Deeper
Learning
2026

Both!
I want the best of each approach.

Either conference works – you can't go wrong!

Which 2026 HTH GSE conference should you attend?

DL26 or Summit 2026, you'll leave with tools, inspiration, and a community of educators working to transform learning.
And with shared programming across both events, you'll still connect to the big ideas and people shaping the future of education—no matter which path you take.

